IIHSE – International Institute of Health Safety Environment

Who Are We?

IIHSE is an independent, non-profit institute aiming to strengthen international collaboration, knowledge exchange and academic engagement across interdisciplinary fields such as health, safety, environment, quality and sustainability. We also operate IHSE, a nationally active institute. IIHSE and IHSE were established by associations with the same management team and act jointly in national and international activities.

Our Mission

- To strengthen companies' capacity in OHS, environment, sustainability and quality.
- To improve productivity and resilience through health, safety-culture and psychosocial risk programmes.
- To provide scientific consulting and academic cooperation in emergency, disaster, climate and environmental management.
- To increase the visibility of good practices in professional networks.

Our Vision

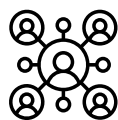

To be an internationally recognized centre in health, safety and sustainability, working with companies to build secure, efficient and environmentally responsible organizations.
